

The 1865 Rathcore evictions: Local history

This local history centers on the evictions of Rathcore. On 27 January 1865, thirteen tenant families numbering 87 men, women and children were evicted from their homesteads and cleared out of the 828 acre rural townland of Rathcore, situated in the southern quadrant of Co. Meath. The local circumstances surrounding those evictions bore all the hallmarks of poor landlord behaviour. The dishonest actions of two particular landlords contributed greatly in causing this most infamous local incident. In a respectable manner this study attempts to provide a fascinating insight into the whole complex nature of the landlord and tenant relationship in Rathcore, set against a backdrop and a period in time in which a trend facilitated by a gradual expansion of land under grass was well underway in Co. Meath from the mid-nineteenth century on-wards.
