

The American experience in education,

Excellent selection of articles & extracts tracing and interpreting the history of the education of children & young adults in America. Includes are essays by such leading historians of American education and culture as: LAURENCE CREMIN / HOWARD K. BEALE / MERLE CURTI / DAVID TYACK / OSCAR HANDLIN / DAVID PORTER & OTHERS. Especially notable is a selection of writings on the educational history of minority children & youth. Other essays deal with educational influences on family and on religious movements, the ideological content of instruction and the response of the educational system to new demographic, social, philosophical and economic condition. Thought-provoking, excellent for discussion groups.
