

Serious Breadth: Eye Openers and Unsung Heroes

A college education in one book. Read 2-3 page summaries of one hundred non-fiction books divided into 35 departments. The books have been selected to encompass an unusually wide variety of topics: everything from body dysmorphic disorder to the Chinas Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution. Something to offend everyone. The creationists will be upset to learn that Darwin was right. The progressives will be upset to learn that Keynes was wrong. The libertarians will be upset to learn that the Zionism is a good thing. The hedonists will be upset to learn that Kinsey was a fraud. The feminists will be upset at being accused of abandoning Muslim women. The pro-life movement will learn of the misogynist hatred they have spawned. Selected books include memoirs from individuals who have endured genocide and slave labor camps. Learn how Norman Borlaug saved millions of lives with Mexican dwarf wheat. Learn how Che Guevara enjoyed watching executions so much, that he had a window installed in his office.
