

The autobiography of Shakespeare;: A fragment

Excerpt from The Autobiography of Shakespeare: A Fragment . . . we hope, to your divers capacities, you will find enough both to draw, and hold you: for his wit could no more lie hid, than it could be lost. Read him, therefore; and again, and again: and then if you do not like him, surely you are in some manifest danger, not to understand him. And so we leave you to other of his friends whom, if you need, can be your guides: if you need them not, you can lead yourselves, and others. And such readers we wish him.
