

101 Things to Do on the Street: Games and Resources for Detached, Outreach and Street-Based Youth Work

101 Things to Do on the Street is packed with fun, creative and innovative ideas for street games and activities to help young people explore personal, social and emotional issues. Specifically designed so that few resources or props are needed, the activities included are all practical, easy to follow, and above all, fun. As well as helping young people get to know each other, they explore issues such as gender stereotypes, values, trust and safety. They also aim to improve skills such as teamwork, communication, compromise and negotiation. From role-play to arts and crafts to quizzes, there are over 100 ideas that can be picked to suit the young people on the street and can be adapted for use elsewhere. This second edition includes . . . and is suitable for young people aged . . . This invaluable resource will be used time and again by detached and outreach youth workers, youth offending teams, and anyone working with young people who need ideas for fun and exciting games and activities.
