

Prepping For Pennies: How to Prep on a Shoestring and Still Be Ready for SHTF

Can you prep even if you are really on a tight budget? If you look back at history, before we had all our modern conveniences, people lived on a lot less than they do now, and they survived. Maybe you are just an average American that wants to start prepping but have a few things slowing you down. You might have a mortgage car payments, and maybe even expensive health issues. You dont have 200 to 300 just to spend on fancy supplies. Not to worry, prepping can be done successfully with little to no budget. In fact, knowledge is probably better than gear. Having the skills to survive will probably keep you alive more than having expensive gear.
