

Christines Story

Christines Story is a story transforms the ideas of great philosophers into recognisable situations from daily life, following Christine and her friends at home and at school where they wonder about questions such as: Whats the difference between acting and lying? What is trust? What is the difference between a friend and boyfriend? What makes me the person I am? How do we know what is true? Is violence ever justified? Should you lie to protect a person? Swept along by the plot twists and mysteries, the philosophical puzzles and dilemmas transport the reader effortlessly into the realm of philosophical wonder, thinking and reasoning. The book can be read simply as a story, or it can be used with groups of 12 16 year olds as a stimulus to philosophical discussion and dialogue. Cover illustration by Allen Farrington
