

From Aardvark to Zoetrope, an alphabet book for children

With a collection of objects for each letter, shown in beautifully staged photographs, this alphabet book has something for the whole family. Ranging from the familiar childhood standbys--grapes, keys, and a cat--to the less ordinary--illuminations, quills, and vanilla beans--each image encourages children and adults alike to pause and take a closer look. Brianna Stuart is a photographer and writer in the Seattle area. Finding a serious lack of artistic alphabet books accessible to children, she created this book for her young twins. Edition 1 was a hardcover sold privately. This is the first digital edition.
