

The Adventures of Skippy, Qtip, and Moka: At the Cabin: The tails of these real-life dog and cat friends in the great outdoors

Spend some quality time reading with your children while you follow Skippy, Qtip, and Moka on their adventures at the cabin. Kids will love the illustrations and photos of these real-life animal friends. Each pet has their own personality and interests but they are still the best of friends and do many activities together. Your kids will learn vocabulary and the concept of seasons as they see the pets play and learn about their surroundings. Appropriate for all preschool ages. Michael Pettigrew has been taking pictures of his pets since they were a puppy or kitten. His hobby grew from a way to enjoy his pets and remember their antics to a vast portfolio available online through several different stock photography websites. A simple Google Image search for Dog and cat reveals how far and wide his pictures have been used, with easily half a dozen appearing in the first page of results. He has also always enjoyed many other artistic pursuits, from drawing illustrations and logos to complex three dimensional computer graphics. With the birth of his daughter, Michaels hobby naturally evolved to include her, and he became interested in creating a childrens book featuring his animal friends. See Michaels other projects at his personal website (michaelpettigrew.com) or his company website (websubstance.com). Lindsay Wagner became part of our team in 2013. She loves Skippy, Qtip, and Moka and jumps right in to any project they are a part of. One of her favorite parts of the day is being greeted by them when she arrives at the Animal Wish headquarters in the morning. Her feet getting stepped on and their wagging tails always put a smile on her face. Lindsays goal is to translate the fun personalities she sees in the pets into Michaels books for kids of all ages to enjoy.
