

Daphne Du Maurier at Home

Daphne du Maurier (1907-89) is the author of Rebecca, Jamaica Inn, Frenchmans Creek, Dont Look Now and The Birds among many others which continue to thrill and fascinate readers worldwide. The daughter of Sir Gerald du Maurier, the leading actor manager of his day, she grew up in a wildly imaginative Peter Pan world peopled by Londons leading writers and actors, before arriving in Cornwall at the age of 19. The place and its people inspired her to write her first novel The Loving Spirit, a work which so affected a young major in the Grenadier Guards, later Lieutenant-General Sir Frederick Browning, that he travelled to Fowey in his boat Ygdrasil to meet - and eventually to marry - the author. This bewitching evocation of place was to remain a feature of Daphne du Mauriers writing, and the source of much of her enduring popularity. Hilary Macaskill explores the homes and landscapes of Daphne du Mauriers life, and how these relate to her work in sometimes unexpected ways. Generously illustrated with little-seen material from the family archive as well as new color photographs, this is a book which will enrich and transport anyone who has ever lost themselves between the covers of a Daphne du Maurier novel.
