

Friends across the Miles: VSOs - an important part of Labrador Education History Voluntary Service Overseas

Original copies of newspaper and magazine articles about the work of the Voluntary Service Overseas (V.S.O.) teachers in Labrador, Newfoundland, Canada 1960-70, when 18 year old students - mainly from the United Kingdom taught in the schools of the coastal settlements in Labrador, Newfoundland, Canada. Its been over 30 years since members of the Voluntary Service Overseas (VSO) were stationed in Labrador and now a search is underway to locate those who served as teachers from 1960-1970 (one year terms). VSOs came from the United Kingdom to isolated communities and a way of life that was foreign to them. Some of the communities they were stationed in included Nain, Hopedale, Lodge Bay, Cartwright, Marys Harbour, Cape St. Charles, Williams Harbour, Rexons Cove, Mud Lake, Makkovik, North West River, Port Hope Simpson and Rigolet. The idea to bring members of this volunteer organization to Labrador originated with Reverend Bill Peacock, superintendent of the Moravian Missions in Labrador. He knew the difficulty there was in attracting qualified Newfoundland and Canadian teachers to the Labrador coast, particularly more remote communities. When Bill Rompkey (now Labrador Senator) became superintendent of the school board in 1968, VSOs were already in place. I was very attracted to the idea, particularly as we were still having the same problems filling some schools, said Mr. Rompkey. He said the use of volunteers in Labrador was not new Extract The Labradorian Happy Valley-Goose Bay 18 JUNE 2003 by Karen Blackmore.
