

Information and Libraries in the Developing World: South-East Asia and China

This is the second volume in a continuing series. Volume 2 contains recent contributions from Singapore, Malaysia, Indonesia, Laos, Thailand, Vietnam and China. There are 22 papers that range in topic from the Thai practice of producing a free book to celebrate a birthday or honour the dead, to opportunities for computerization in Malaysian libraries and information centres. Aspects of scientific and technical information in Vietnam, Malaysia and China are covered by nationals of the country about which they write. There are background papers on cost concepts, and colonialism and the development of libraries and archives in French Indochina.
