

Transforming adult social care

Adult social care has emerged as a distinct policy area in the UK and one which has come under increasing scrutiny by government and other bodies. With the expectation that in future many more adults will need care and support, ideas have emerged about a transformation of adult social care. The focus of this wide-ranging book is on the major themes in policy and provision including personalisation, integration, user participation, the cost of long term care, risk and safeguarding, care quality and workforce issues and is one of the first texts to deal with adult social care as a distinct entity and is an up to date source on contemporary government policies, debates and research. The book encourages readers to think critically about decisions being made and about the direction of future policy. The accessible book will be a valuable resource for under-graduate students in Social Policy, Health and Social Care and Social Work, those taking advanced vocational qualifications in social care and practitioners.
