

Folklore in Southern India, Vol. 1 (Classic Reprint)

When any awkward blander occurs from person aeti gunder a mistaken notion, there is a common proverb in Tamil to the effect that the matter ended like the story of the three deaf men (M uchehevidan hadaiydy mudindadu). The following is the story told to explain the Allusion -: In a remote village there lived a husband and wife. Both of them were quite deaf. They had made this household arrangement, to cook cabbage with tamarind and soup without tamarind one day, and cabbage without tamarind -and soup with tamarind on the other. Thus on every alternate day the same dishes were being repeated. One day, when taking his meal, the husband found the tamarind cabbage so very tasteful that he wanted to have it also next day, and gave instructions to that effect. The deaf wife did not understand the order. According to the established rule she cooked cabbage without tamarind next day.(Typographical errors above are due to OCR software and do not occur in the book.)About the Publisher Forgotten Books is a publisher of historical writings, such as: Philosophy, Classics, Science, Religion, History, Folklore and Mythology.Forgotten Books Classic Reprint Series utilizes the latest technology to regenerate facsimiles of historically important writings.
