

Hemyock Memories of War Volume 3. WWII 1939-45: Extracts: Europe & North Africa. First Hand Accounts by Residents of Hemyock. (Hemyocks Memories of War)

This is from just one of the first-hand accounts in this volume of extracts; The amazing account by the teenager from Hemyock, who was given the task of physically searching surrendering top German generals, looking for incriminating documents for use in the Nuremberg war-crimes trials: ...Into my marked section of the park, were brought Generals and Admirals and the last civilian members of Grand Admiral Doenitz's so-called new German Government. It was my job to search them and remove all documents. We heard later that these documents were to be used at the Nuremberg Trials. I became fearfully popular with my betters, when I discovered that German Generals, in all their glory, had papers concealed in the wide cuffs of their be-medalled tunics. How did they take being searched by a mere 19 year old English soldier - right down to their string vests?... Volume 3: WWII in Europe & North Africa. These edited extracts from first-hand accounts by residents of Hemyock, mostly cover their experiences in Europe & North Africa during WWII. They cover many of the campaigns, including the long bitter struggle after the D-Day landings in June 1944 until Europe was finally liberated on 8th May 1945, VE-Day. These accounts are largely as originally written by the participants, in their own words. The accounts are in alphabetical order. Other volumes cover service in other theatres: - Volume 0: The Complete text - Volume 1: Extracts: Dunkirk, D-Day, U-Boat Fleets Surrender - Volume 2: Extracts: Evacuees, The Home Front, Womens War Work - Volume 3: Extracts: Europe, North Africa - Volume 4: Extracts: Royal Navy, Convoys, Burma, The Far East These are just a small sample from the complete book, which contains the first-hand accounts of over 75 contributors. As young people from this small self-contained Devon village, these people had extraordinary experiences; serving on all fronts throughout the World; on land, sea, and in the air; as well as on the Home Front. Originally compiled from personal interviews in 1995 with over 75 residents of Hemyock, for the fiftieth anniversaries of VE and VJ Days; now edited and republished in digital format. The full digital version contains the complete text together with an expanded list of the contributors and of other local people named in their accounts: There is a link to view the over 130 photographs as a series of four online HD slide shows. I hope you enjoy these edited extracts. Proceeds to Hemyocks Blackdown Support Group Charity, which does so much to support frail and elderly people.
