Excerpt from The Wisconsin Archeologist, Vol. 3: Summary of the Archeology of Racine County Wisconsin XLVII Monthly Session. Thirty members in attendance. President Crosby occupied the chair. It greatly pleased him, he said, to be able to report that at a joint meeting of the Executive Board and the State Board of Agriculture, held at West Allis, Wis., on August 6, the members of the State Board had agreed to take measures necessary for the protection and preservation of the Indian mounds located in the State Fair Park. Mr. O. L. Hollister, who had assisted him in presenting this matter to the State Board, had very kindly taken it upon himself to see that these mounds were appropriately placarded. Mr. W. H. Elkey made a brief report on the location and condition of several mound groups visited by himself on the shores of Buffalo Lake, in Marquette County. Vice-President Porter contributed a short but interesting paper detailing the results of the recent exploration by others of two burial mounds located on the banks of the Fox river, near Big Bend, in Waukesha County. H. A. Crosby told of the results of the survey conducted by himself and Vice-President Lawson in Eastern Calumet County. He stated that at least another seasons field work would be necessary to complete the surveys in that territory. Secretary Brown then presented a lengthy report entitled Investigations in the Wisconsin Field during the Summer of 1903. The Society, he said, might well be congratulated upon the results of the seasons work. In nearly every instance where researches had been undertaken by competent individuals, the work had been carefully and intelligently pursued and the results, (as briefly mentioned in the Secretarys report), well demonstrated what could be accomplished by an archeological society well organized and working with a definite purpose in view, in a comparatively short period of time. In some counties the work had progressed far better than in others. There were of course various reasons for this. Some disappointments had been met with, especially in instances where members, whose assistance had been relied upon, had failed to keep promises made earlier in the season. In several districts the work of survey and exploration had been practically completed and the results were being prepared for publication. All of the expenses of these researches had been borne by the individual members participating. It was to be hoped that ere long some local philanthropist might be induced to come forward with sufficient funds to warrant the establishment of a permanent survey. The Messrs. J. J. Gilman, A. H. Porter, P. A. Seifert, Dr. L. Falge and Chas. Stever were to be particularly commended for the character of their services to the Society. It was also stated that a considerable number of applications for membership had been received from all parts of the state.
