

Postcards From Las Vegas

Where do the locals eat in Las Vegas? Where are the best places to stay? And what are the hidden gems that other tourists have never heard of? The Postcards From series is a collection of five short essays on different elements of a destination. Our travel writers look for interesting and unusual elements to a city, composing a collection of portraits that will introduce the reader to some of the least known aspects of the destination. These collections are essential reading for the would-be traveller. Each book is around 7,500 words in length.
